Arab National Bank (ANB) is one of the leading financial institutions in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, offering a comprehensive range of banking and financial services tailored to meet the needs of a diverse client base. These include: retail banking, corporate banking, private banking, digital banking, and other financial services.

Targeted Audience

Arab National Bank serves a wide range of customers, including individuals, small and medium-sized enterprises, large corporations, and government entities. The Bank is committed to providing innovative and secure financial solutions tailored to the diverse needs of its clients.

This privacy policy (the “Privacy Policy”) applies to all information we collect, use and process about you as a customer, potential customers, and third parties in relation to the products/services you receive from us carried out by Arab National Bank (referred to as “ANB” in this policy).

ANB is a data controller in respect of personal information that we process in connection with our business (including the products and services that we provide). In this policy, references to “we”, “us” or “our” are references to ANB. The purpose of this policy is to explain the purpose of personal data collection, what personal data to be collected, what means are used for data collection, processing, storage and destruction. This policy also highlights the rights of the data subjects and how they can exercise the rights. “Personal information” means any information, regardless of its source or form, that may lead to identifying an individual specifically, or that may directly or indirectly make it possible to identify an individual.

For the avoidance of doubt, we would like to clarify that this Policy does not alter any agreement applicable to your business relationship with us, including the General Conditions.

It is important that you check back often for updates to the Privacy Policy. You will also be notified of any significant changes in this policy. We may update this Privacy Policy periodically to reflect changes in our personal information practices with respect to the Services or changes in applicable law. We will post a policy on our website to notify you in advance of material changes to our Privacy Policy and indicate at the top of the Privacy Policy when it was most recently updated.

For which purposes do we process your Personal Data and what legal basis do we rely on?

Purpose of Processing

We always process your Personal Data for a specific purpose and only process the Personal Data which is relevant to achieve that purpose. In particular, we process Personal Data, within applicable legal limitations, for the following purposes:

Essential Product and Services

Client Onboarding: To verify your identity and assess your application (including the need for guarantees or other securitization tools if you apply for credit);

To provide products and services to you and ensuring their proper execution, for instance by ensuring that we can identify you and make payments to and from your accounts in accordance with your instructions and the product terms;

Client Relationship Management

To manage our relationship with you, including communicating with you in relation to the products and services you obtain from us and from our business partners, handling customer service-related queries and complaints, facilitating debt recovery activities, making decisions regarding credit or your identity, tracing your whereabouts, and closing your account (in accordance with applicable law) if it remains dormant and we are unable to contact you after a period of time;

To receive and handle complaints, requests or reports from you or third parties made to designated units within ANB;

To enhance our service quality and provide a personalized experience.

To help us to learn more about you as a client, your preferences on the products and services you receive, including profiling based on the processing of your Personal Data, for instance by looking at the types of applications, platforms, products and services that you use from us, information we obtain via monitoring software and how you like to be contacted;

To evaluate whether and how ANB may offer products, services and events, including those offered by us and that may be of interest to you;

Marketing and Awareness

To contact you for direct marketing purposes about products and services we think will be of interest to you;

To analyze the results of our marketing activities to measure their effectiveness and relevance of our campaigns;

To serve you and your Affiliates

To provide services to child or incompetent, we may collect and process their personal data only if their legal guardian consents for the same. We will verify the identity of the legal guardian before processing the personal data of child or incompetent and will reach out to the guardian for any intention to communicate directly with the child or incompetent individual;

We may collect and process your personal data if you are the owner, a board member, or a representative of a company to fulfill our contractual obligations, communicate effectively, and provide relevant services to the organization;

Ensure Compliance with regulatory obligations

To carry out legal and regulatory compliance checks, including during the onboarding process and through periodic reviews, in order to meet our ongoing obligations. This includes complying with anti-money laundering laws, fraud prevention, financial crime prevention, and other regulatory requirements such as recording and monitoring communications, applying risk classifications to business relationships, and making disclosures to tax authorities, financial service regulators, and other regulatory, judicial, or governmental bodies. This may involve profiling based on the processing of your personal data, such as analyzing how and from which geographic location you use our applications, products, and services;

To reply to any actual or potential proceedings, requests or the inquiries of a public or judicial authority;

To share periodic reports with regulators and law enforcement agencies;

Other purposes:

For ANB's operational management (including credit, compliance and risk management, technological support services, reporting, insurance, audit, systems and products training and administrative purposes);

To collect data to ensure the security of buildings, the safety of staff and visitors, as well as property and information located, stored on or accessible from the premises, to prevent, and if necessary, investigate unauthorized access to secure premises (e.g., maintaining building access logs and CCTV system images to prevent, detect and investigate a theft of equipment or asset owned by ANB, visitor or staff, or threats to the safety of personnel working at the office);

To undertake transactional and statistical analysis, and related research;

To exercise our duties and/or rights vis-à-vis you or third parties;

To provide IT solutions to you and ensure their proper execution in accordance with your instructions and our contractual arrangements with you, for instance by providing incident management and testing directly connected to the provision of the service, or by supporting our obligations regarding Personal Data storage, legal and regulatory compliance, audit activity and investigations;

To take steps to improve our products and services and our use of technology, including testing and upgrading of systems and processes, and conducting market research to understand how to improve of our existing products and services or learn about other products and services we can provide;

We use both automated and manual methods to process your Personal Data for these purposes. Our automated methods often are related to and supported by our manual methods.

Basis for processing of Personal Data

ANB processes your Personal Data as per the principles stated in Personal Data Protection Law

(PDPL). The processing of your Personal Data will be one of the following grounds:

- We may process your information where it is necessary to enter into a contract with you for the provision of our products or services or to perform our obligations under that contract. Please note that if you do not agree to provide us with the requested information, it may not be possible for us to continue to operate your account and/or provide products and services to you.
- When you apply for a product or service (and throughout your relationship with us), we are required by law to collect and process certain personal information about you. Please note that if you do not agree to provide us with the requested information, it may not be possible for us to continue to operate your account and/or provide products and services to you.
- Necessary for the legitimate interests of ANB, without unduly affecting your interests or fundamental rights and freedoms and to the extent such Personal Data is necessary for the intended purpose (such as when we use your data for some of the purposes in Section 2.1 a), b), d), e), f), g) and h).
- Our activities where we may rely on your consent, including where we process certain special categories of data (as described in Section 1); where we use cookies or similar technologies (as described in Section 8); or where we collect your permission for sending marketing communication or any other processing where we request your consent.
- In some cases, necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest.
- In some case, to process the personal data of a child or legally incompetent individual, by obtaining explicit consent from their legal guardian.

Where the Personal Data we collect from you is needed to meet our legal or regulatory obligations or enter into an agreement with you, if we cannot collect this Personal Data, there is a possibility, we may be unable to on-board you as a client or provide products or services to you (in which case we will inform you accordingly).

Legal Basis for Collecting and Processing Your Personal Data:

In accordance with the Personal Data Protection Law, the legal basis on which we rely in processing such data is:

In fulfillment of a contractual obligation:

The Bank processes your personal data in order to fulfill contractual obligations established between you and the Bank.

In compliance with a statutory obligation:

Your personal data is collected and processed in accordance with legal obligations mandated by the Saudi Central Bank and other relevant regulatory and legislative authorities.

Achieving legitimate interests or objectives:

The Bank may process your personal data to pursue legitimate interests, such as the effective management and protection of the Bank's assets, provided that such processing does not conflict with your legal rights or unduly infringe upon your privacy.

Your Explicit Consent:

In certain cases, your personal data is processed based on your explicit consent, particularly when handling sensitive data such as fingerprints. You have the full right to withdraw your consent at any time without affecting the lawfulness of processing carried out prior to the withdrawal. (Please refer to Section 7: 7. What are your rights and how can you exercise them?)

Maintaining vital interests:

In exceptional circumstances where it is not possible to contact you, the Bank may process your personal data if it is necessary to protect an existing interest of yours—whether material or moral—particularly in situations that require urgent intervention.

Achieving public interest:

Personal data may be processed where necessary to serve a public interest, such as maintaining public security or protecting public health, in accordance with the applicable laws and regulations in the Kingdom.

How do we protect Personal Data?

We take data protection seriously and, in our commitment, to safeguarding your information, we employ a robust security measures and best practices. This includes access controls, encryption, regular security assessments, and employee trainings. We continuously monitor and adapt our security measures to mitigate risks and protect your information from unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, or destruction. Our vigilant approach to information security ensures the highest standards of privacy and compliance with data protection regulations.

Who has access to Personal Data and with whom are they shared?

Data transfers to other countries

We are headquartered in Riyadh, Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. We may transfer your personal data to other countries where we (or other companies within the ANB Group or authorities) or our service providers that maintain operations.

When we transfer personal data, we ensure it has an appropriate level of protection and that the transfer is lawful. This includes relying on adequacy decisions issued by the relevant data protection authority and using standard contractual clauses for transfers of personal data. You can obtain more details of the protection given to your information when it is transferred by contacting us using the contact details, refer to section 12

How long do we store your data?

Your personal data is securely stored at anb Headquarter in Riyadh, Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, or on approved servers within a secure environment subject to restrict technical and organizational controls that ensure protection against loss, unauthorized use, or access. This includes, but is not limited to, encryption and access management. Data may also be stored outside the Kingdom in compliance with Saudi Central Bank regulations and Personal Data Protection Law and its implementation regulations.

We will retain your Personal Data for:

The duration of our banking relationship; and

For as long as necessary to fulfil the purpose for which it was collected.

However, we will not keep your personal information for longer than is necessary for the purpose for which it was collected. This means that information will be destroyed or erased from our systems when it is no longer required. We take appropriate steps to ensure that we process and retain information about you based on the following logic:

- At least the duration for which the information is used to provide you with a service;
- As required under law, a contract, or with regard to our statutory obligations;

- Only for as long as is necessary for the purpose for which it was collected, is processed, or for longer if required under any contract, by applicable law, or for statistical purposes, subject to appropriate safeguards.

Please note that there may be instances where we are unable to enforce your instructions with respect to delete your personal information due to legal or regulatory requirements, such as those set by authorities like SAMA.

However, when we no longer require the Personal Data that ANB collected about you, we will either delete or anonymize them (so that it is no longer personally identifiable with you) or, if this is not possible (for example, due to your Personal Data has been stored in backup archives), then we will isolate your Personal Data from any further processing, employing security safeguards designed to protect it until deletion thereof is possible.
